MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: Edward J. Maloney
Director of Information Technology

SUBJECT: Request for DCI to Introduce Speaker, Adaptive Technology Awareness Day, 29 March 1988

1. On 29 March 1988, the Office of Information Technology and the Office of Personnel are jointly sponsoring an Adaptive Technology Awareness Day, a new initiative to increase awareness of how computer technology can assist physically challenged employees.

2. We would be pleased if you would introduce the keynote speaker, Richard Pimentel at the start of the event, 0900. Mr. Pimentel is affiliated with Milt Wright and Associates, a consulting and training service. He has created a course on the employment issues of physically challenged persons and is well recognized in his field. Throughout the day, vendors will be exhibiting computer adaptive equipment for the visually and hearing impaired and aids for personnel with mobility impairments. During the afternoon, Mr. Pimentel will be conducting workshops on topics such as job accommodation for Agency supervisors and employees.

3. Since these issues touch many offices in the Agency, we hope you will lend your support in this endeavor. We are inviting special guests from other government agencies. Heading the guest list are Judge Leonard Suchanek, Chairperson of the Interagency Committee for Computer Support of Handicapped Employees, and Jay Rochlin, Acting Executive Director, President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. A luncheon has been scheduled in the DCI dining room for some of our special guests and we hope you can attend.

4. Your introductory remarks will be prepared in OIT and will be forwarded to the Director, Office of Public Affairs.
